LB 906

to the Department of Health and Human Services. And there is two components to the test, and the first component is that individual has to show evidence of completion of education, training or experience, and I want to simply define what that relates to. Because if we don't define it, Senator Stuhr, we could...the department could adopt regulations that say the training could be 6,000 hours, like it was on General File. And I'm sorry if you don't like these questions, but I'm getting extremely frustrated. I am trying to assist you. I agree with you that it needs to be regulated, but help me help you. So can we stick to subsection (d)? And if you don't want to answer the questions, that's fine, just tell me and I'll just sit down. I won't participate in the debate. I won't vote for it. But if you want me to help you, let me.

SENATOR STUHR: Okay.

SENATOR BOURNE: Okay. So again, if the Department of Health and Human Services says that an individual has to have a certain level of training in applying a tattoo, that would be beyond the bounds of this bill. Is that an accurate statement?

SENATOR STUHR: Would you...would you repeat that again, Senator Bourne?

SENATOR BOURNE: Again, Senator Stuhr, thank you for your assistance with this. I'm just getting a little frustrated trying to establish this, especially because the language has changed a little bit. In subsection (2)(d) we say that the individual has to have evidence of completion of education, training, or experience. I want to establish very clearly that the department will not set minimal levels of experience, meaning if I read a book on safety, sanitation, and sterilization in ten minutes and am able to pass the test, then that's the threshold.

SENATOR STUHR: Okay.

SENATOR BOURNE: Is that...is that accurate, Senator Stuhr? So I don't want the department to say, okay, you have to spend 1,000 hours to pass the test as it relates to safety,
